I have fixed the error. I will go ahead and run our communication summaries and link them as well. After that we should be good to submit!

I did add Chat Log in Github but I don't think I added it correctly. I am working on Final analysis now.

Great, please try and get it to us sooner rather than later.

Also, please disregard my request for a Microsoft Word document. I can upload the PDF so submit whatever is convenient for you.

Yes, I just copied my analysis into the final paper. @Harper Kates can you please provide me with a Microsoft Word document of your Chat Logs? @Himani Patel we are still waiting on your individual analysis and your AI chat logs (please make sure they are in a Microsoft Word document).

Let's try and get this ready to submit, I will be unavailable after 4PM tomorrow, so I'll need to submit before then! It's our last project, let's finish strong!

I also need you all to compile your Chat Logs — however you want to do this is fine — as long as they are in a Microsoft Word document.

Thanks!

It turns out that George Washington's birthdate is well-understood to be February 22, 1732 by pretty much every historian, making it not a highly-disputed fact. Can we choose a more disputed fact, such as who shot first at the Battle of Lexington?

Thank you for setting this up. I had a last minute meeting pop up on my calendar after work, I should not be late to our Zoom. I just wanted to let you all know because traffic can be unpredictable at that time.
